

NiveSal

CONCRETE BATCHING PLANT

NiveSal provides complete concrete batching plants of all sizes used by various industries. From small mobile units to large scale units used for construction, tiles or dry mortar industries, we can provide customized solutions for each requirement. We can supply fully automatic units with precise digital measurement and mixing systems to ensure the desired quality of concrete production. We can also provide all necessary ancillary equipment required for the batching plant.

